Curious Minds are seeking a Hope Streets Project Co-Ordinator to play a key role in a brand-new project.

Hope Streets will see young people aged 11 – 25 revolutionise the way museums work with their peers. Working across all 5 regions of the North West, Hope Streets will create exciting learning experiences for young people and museum and youth work professionals.

It's called Hope Streets because we believe young people and museums can provide each other with hope for the future and that's exactly what this project will explore. The Hope Streets Project Co-Ordinator will be the lynch pin of a vibrant and fast-paced project. It's an excellent opportunity to work with and alongside a wide range of partners and experts and be at the heart of a project creating real strategic change.

If you're able to provide efficient and dependable project co-ordination within a dynamic and lively project, we'd love to hear from you! Please visit www.curiousminds.org.uk/vacancies for details of how to apply. The deadline for applications is 5pm on the 12th of July 2018. Interviews will be held on the 26th of July in Preston.

We welcome applications from all people and we would particularly welcome applications from BAME and disabled applicants. We are taking the positive action of offering an interview to all BAME and disabled applicants who meet the Essential Criteria on the job description for the post. Any final appointment to the post will be made on merit.

This post is subject to securing funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund. We are currently in a non-competitive Stage 2 funding round awaiting a final decision, which we expect to have on the 27th of June 2018.

Application Procedure

Please download the application forms, complete them and send them to Susan Blackburn: susan.blackburn@curiousminds.org.uk. Applications must be received by 5pm on the 12th of July 2018. Interviews will be held on the 26th of July 2018 in Preston.

Please note: This post is currently subject to confirmation of a grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund. We are in a non-competitive Stage 2 application round and are expecting a final decision on the 27th of June 2018.

On your application please clearly state how your previous experience links to the requirements of the role. Candidates who do not clearly show how their experience matches the essential criteria will not be considered.
